

Nursing 101 – First Week Instructions

- Welcome to all incoming Nursing Students!
- FIRST DAY OF CLASS/LAB/CLINICAL will begin as of Tuesday, September 2nd 2008. Follow your schedule as per your registration; all sessions will be held at the College for the first few weeks of the semester; students should dress professionally, be relaxed, but do not need to be in uniform.
- The Opening Ecumenical Celebration is scheduled for Tuesday, September 2, 2008.
- You should plan to be in clinical for the entire scheduled time, as per your registration information (Clinical day from 8:00-3:30, with two 15 minute breaks, one half hour lunch break; you might want to think about packing lunches and/or snacks)
- You may be assigned to clinical before the meeting of your first class, due to the Labor Day Holiday

- The first theory class for Nursing 101- Section VB will be held on Wednesday, September 3, 2008 – Room will be posted
- The first meeting for Nursing 101 - Section VA will be held on Tuesday, September 2, 2008, during Clinical Time, Room will be posted; VA1 - will start at 8:00am, VA2 - will start at 12:30 pm
- The first theory class for Nursing 101- Section VE will be held on Tuesday, September 2, 2008, Room will be posted
- Course materials will be distributed during the first week of class and/or clinical

- Please check your registration information to confirm the days and times you are scheduled to be on campus
- If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me:
Sharon Makowski, Asst. Professor
Nursing 101 Course Leader
203-576- 5478
smakowski@stvincentscollege.edu