A record-breaking class of 152 students from St. Vincent’s College listened to the message of commencement speaker Robert Henkel, FACHE, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ascension Health, asking them for their “steadfast commitment to healthcare.” Henkel addressed the class at the recent graduation ceremonies for St. Vincent’s College held at the Mertens Theatre in the Arnold Bernhard Arts & Humanities Center, at the University of Bridgeport.

Henkel, the leader of Ascension Health, the nation’s largest Catholic and largest non-profit healthcare system, and the parent company of St. Vincent’s Health Services, told the students that they should expect to see rapid changes in the field of healthcare, including a trend from inpatient to outpatient care, a shift to care at non-traditional facilities located in supermarkets and pharmacies, and technology constantly bringing new options.

He also emphasized the importance of person-to-person relationships in healthcare today. “Person-centered care is a sacred promise and you are the living expression of the Vincentian core values.”

Robert J. Henkel, a fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives and a member of the Healthcare Executives Network, currently serves as a board member of the Catholic Health Association, the United Way of Greater St. Louis, and the Coalition to Protect America’s Health Care. He is a University of Pittsburgh Legacy Laureate.

Dear Alumni,

In August we will be starting yet another academic year here at St. Vincent’s College – our 110th year as a higher education institution, 24 of those years as a College. Before we get started with the new academic year I want to first pause and write a note to you, the alumni, to give you a quick update. Let me first start with the new alumni, 152 strong, who graduated during the 2013-2014 academic year. I am pleased to report that 22 percent of that number received bachelor degrees in either Nursing or Radiologic Sciences, up from 12 percent of graduates the previous year. The associate degree nursing and radiography programs also continue to prepare growing numbers of graduates, 118 this past year, who primarily seek employment in Fairfield and New Haven counties.

With national attention on increasing the number and percentage of bachelors prepared health professionals to meet the changing needs of healthcare, the College has instituted a program aimed at encouraging students to “Come for your associates and stay for your bachelors.” The program is designed to streamline the transition of students from their associate degree program into the College’s bachelors completion programs in Nursing (RN-BSN) and Radiologic Sciences (BSRS). Thus far we have record numbers of recent graduates enrolling in these programs during the upcoming academic year.

The College continues to be approved and accredited by the State of Connecticut Department of Higher Education and accredited by NEASC, our regional accrediting body. The associate degree nursing and radiography programs and the RN-BSN are accredited by NLNAC, JRCERT and ACNEN (formerly NLNAC) respectively. We are proud of our record of national recognition of our programs by the various accrediting bodies.

Turning to alumni affairs, I am pleased to announce that Martin Sbriglio, RN, of the class of 1977 has assumed the role of Chair of the St. Vincent’s College Board of Trustees effective July 1, 2014. Martin, the CEO of Ryders Health Management in Stratford, is serving his second nine year term on the Board. He follows Marianne Laska, also an alumnus, who just completed a nine year term on the Board during which she spent four years as chair.

At the annual Alumni gathering in April, Diane Sheehan, RN, of the class of 1982 was named the second annual Distinguished Alumni of the Year. Nominations for the alumnus of the year come from you, the alumni. Please think about who you might want to nominate for the 2015 award to be presented at the April Alumni gathering.

So how might you want to get involved or get engaged with the College? We are looking for our alumni to engage us by staying in touch via email, social media, mentoring our students, volunteering at Open House, sharing your stories with prospective students in person or online. If you are interested in being involved in one or more of these ways give Sharon Beasley a call at 203-576-6262.

Have a great fall. I hope to see all of you soon.

Martha K. Shouldis, Ed.D.
President/CEO

The St. Vincent’s College Alumni Report is published by St. Vincent’s College to inform alumni about classmates, offer the latest news and information, and build support for the College. Bachelor of science degrees in nursing and radiologic sciences, both online completion programs, and associate degrees in general studies, nursing and radiography were presented at the event.

After an invocation by the Most Reverend Frank Caggiano, Bishop of Bridgeport, President Martha K. Shouldis, Ed.D., presented the Vincentian Award for service to school and community to College Board Chairperson Marianne Laska, RN. Laska has served on the College board for nine years, the last four as chairperson.

After immigrating to America, Marianne Laska met a portion of her requirements for licensure as a nurse in the U.S. at St. Vincent’s College. She retired from St. Vincent’s Medical Center after more than 20 years of service. Since then she has devoted her time and talents to serving the greater Bridgeport community, most notably service to St. Vincent’s College, St. Vincent’s Parish Nurse Program and the Greater Bridgeport Symphony.

Celebrating Alumni Day

It was a fun-filled evening shared with old friends and new ones. This year’s annual Alumni Cocktail Reception was held on Wednesday April 10th at Testo’s Restaurant and kicked off with tours of the College including the new campus building known as the Virginia Fortin Student Learning Center at 2660 Main Street.

As in years past this event included great food, drink and plenty of raffle prizes. Within the room there were alumni spanning 60 years including one member from the class of 1954.

This year’s Distinguished Alumni of the Year is Diane Sheehan, Class of 1982. Diane currently works at Bridgeport Hospital as their Diabetes APRN where she is developing a program for diabetes care and education, which includes management of diabetic patients as inpatients and following them as outpatients in the community. Her vast knowledge of community resources, such as the Hope Dispensary and other assistance offered by local and state associations, has enabled these patients to have better access to diabetes care.

Prior to Bridgeport Hospital Dianne had a long history at St. Vincent’s where she was also in the role of Diabetes APRN. She worked tirelessly to advocate for her diabetic patients, to teach them the ins and outs of managing their diabetes, to help them avail themselves of the community programs which could assist them with education about their disease or with purchasing medication at more affordable costs. She followed their cases while they were hospitalized. She followed them as patients in the Family Health Center at St. Vincent’s. She made sure they knew every avenue available to them for managing their diabetes. She developed the inpatient diabetes program at St. Vincent’s, assisting the Chief of Endocrinology in launching a new Basal Bolus Protocol for blood glucose control, she took over the Glycemic Control Committee, breathed new life into the Medical Center’s Diabetes Clinician program, organized multiple Diabetes Symposia with speakers for both the community and health care professionals, and improved documentation of all the diabetes care provided at St. Vincent’s.

The quote below taken from the nomination submitted on Diane’s behalf sums up the reason she is this year’s award winner.

“I feel that Diane truly exemplifies the qualities of St. Vincent De Paul, especially in service to the less fortunate or medically underserved. I feel that as an “ambassador” for St. Vincent’s College, she exemplifies the kind of healthcare professional that the College produces.”
St. Vincent’s is now a chartered member institution of the SALUTE Veteran’s National Honor Society. Headquartered out of Colorado State University, SALUTE Veterans National Honor Society was made possible by an ACE/Wal-Mart Foundation Success for Veterans Grant.

SALUTE = Service – Academics – Leadership – Unity – Tribute – Excellence

Through this national honor society, we aim to acknowledge our students who have shown courage, strength, leadership, excellence, and perseverance in their military endeavors and now are showing that same commitment and dedication to their academic careers.

Students who are inducted into membership in SALUTE represent American military and veterans in higher education, at two and four year institutions. Members include retirees, disabled veterans, active duty military, National Guard and reservists returning to higher education, starting second careers, or helping fund their college careers with military service.

Each student selected for recognition through membership in SALUTE will receive a membership certificate.

On Veterans Day, Monday, November 11, 2013 the College held its inaugural induction ceremony for the St. Vincent’s SALUTE chapter which featured a display board of the veterans among the St. Vincent’s College community. The display, developed by SVC student Peggy Gagner, Veteran Student representative, was located in the Hunting Street lobby through Thanksgiving. An opportunity was provided to the College community to leave a message of thanks in the memory book to the SVC veterans who have served our country.

The program included the fifth grade chorus from North Stratfield Elementary School in Fairfield. Honorary inductees included Dr. Martha Shouldis, President and CEO, and a 2012 alumni, Ramon Elkins who died in 2013 was posthumously inducted into the society. Among the new chapter inductees was 2014 associate degree nursing program graduate Kristy Lynn Rodrigues as a Charlie member. Kristy served active duty in the Navy as a 2nd class personnel specialist with assignments all over the world.
St. Vincent’s College Adds New Program - HITC (Health Information Technology Coding)

St. Vincent’s College will be offering the Health Information Technology Coding certificate program beginning this fall. This new 30-credit certificate program will provide students with skills necessary to enter or advance in billing and coding for physician practices and hospital coding services.

“We are very pleased to be offering the HITC Certificate Program at this critical time when the implementation of the (ICD-10) International Classification of Diseases –10th Edition is taking place. With the addition of this program St. Vincent’s College will be a provider for critical education and training in coding needed by the health care community in the greater Bridgeport area,” said Martha Shouldis, President/CEO of St. Vincent’s College.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor’s Bureau of Labor Statistics the employment of medical records and health information technicians is expected to increase 21 percent by 2020.

Graduates of this program will learn about anatomy & physiology, pathophysiology, pharmacology, computer systems, medical terminology, reimbursement methodology, clinical data analysis, legal and compliance aspects of healthcare, healthcare data structure and delivery system, and intermediate/advanced ICD diagnostic/procedural and CPT coding. They will also have the opportunity for internships or on-line practical experience that will allow them to experience their profession in a real working environment.

For more information about the HITC Program at St. Vincent’s College please contact the Continuing Education Department at 203-576-5651 or continuinged@stvincentscollege.edu.
TERRY HINE CLASS OF ‘69 IS ST. VINCENT’S COLLEGE EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

Terry Hine, Associate Professor and Chair, Radiologic Science Programs has worked for the St. Vincent’s community for 40 years. She was a major proponent for bringing the hospital based radiology program into the associate degree program over 20 years ago. She has worked tirelessly teaching academics and clinic to the radiography students in the associate degree program, until just recently where she was instrumental in instituting the Bachelor of Science Degree in Radiologic Sciences. Terry took this opportunity to include other modalities to the program so the students would have greater opportunity for employment and life-long learning. She takes time to meet with each student and individually tailor a plan to suit their needs.

Over the years Terry has shown endless drive and passion for the radiography program and all that encompasses it. She lives the mission of St. Vincent, visionary leader, true role model and exceptional employee.
Radiography Students
100% Pass Rate on the ARRT Exam – Second Year in a Row!

Congratulations to the St. Vincent's College Radiography Graduating Class for the great achievement of 100% pass rate on the ARRT exam for the second year in a row! The Radiography program team is led by St. Vincent's College Employee of the Year Terry Hine, Associate Professor and Chair, Radiologic Science Programs and Assistant Professors Emmie Russo and Robin Smith.
LIVING OUR MISSION – COMMUNITY SERVICE HIGHLIGHT

As is tradition and part of our mission our students and the entire St. Vincent’s College community continue to serve others throughout the entire academic year.

A Student Nursing Association was formed this Fall. One of the goals of this group is to be involved with the community through service. The first project this group coordinated was collecting hats, scarves and gloves for the Ronald McDonald House.

Later in the Fall, a group of Radiography students managed “The Great Thanksgiving Project” where the students were responsible for collecting Thanksgiving food and coats for the Bridgeport Rescue Mission who in turn hand out Thanksgiving meals and coats to local families that cannot afford one.

Holiday Season 2013-2014

Once again the College sponsored the Holiday Giving Tree that helped us collect a long list of items for the Mercy Learning Center including jackets, children’s pajamas, snowsuits, socks, sweatshirts, gloves, hats, children’s books, packs of educational flash cards and a big collection of arts & crafts supplies. The Giving Tree effort also allowed us to collect over $500 in gift cards to Stop & Shop, Walgreens, CVS and Target for the Center for Women and Families.
Winter 2014

For the second year in a row, students from the Radiography class participated in the Chemo Love Notes program. Students wrote notes of encouragement and delivered them along with baskets full of baked goodies, magazines, knitted caps and hard candy to patients undergoing chemotherapy treatment at the Oncology Unit of St. Vincent’s Medical Center.

Spring 2014

The Spring 2014 Nursing 101 class collected items for the Acute Rehabilitation Unit at St. Vincent’s Medical Center. Through the generosity of the college community, self care items and appropriate clothing to wear in a gym setting were gathered and donated for patient use. The Physical, Occupational, and Speech therapists on the unit requested these items for patients who are working to return to their highest level of ability while gaining use and strength in the rehab process.

A team from St. Vincent’s College participated in the Walk a Mile in Her Shoes. This community awareness event led by The Center for Family Justice and The Center’s White Ribbon Committee is for everyone, especially families, who want to take the first step to end violence against women and girls.

PTK students once again organized Project Graduation which involved collecting food, toiletries and non-perishable items for the Center for Women and Families and Homes for the Brave, an organization with a mission focused on Veterans, to provide housing and services necessary to help homeless individuals return to a productive and meaningful life.

Our Nursing 123 students had a great time at the Wing Ding Parade/Zoo event in June. Student’s taught local children in the community about being healthy, being safe, being active and being happy.

Kristyn was honored at the Values Recognition Award Ceremony this June for going above and beyond for one of her patients at St. Vincent’s Medical Center.
One of Kristyn’s patients on 7 North was preparing to be discharged and would be going to court to be conserved. Knowing that he did not have proper clothing for a court appearance she took it upon herself to purchase clothing for this man so that he could maintain his dignity on such an important day. This is an example of living one of the core values of St. Vincent’s, reverence – respect and compassion for the dignity and diversity of life.

Students, Faculty, and Staff at St. Vincent’s College,

As many of you are aware, I have retired from my position as Associate Professor, Full-Time Nursing Faculty Member at St. Vincent’s College, as of the end of this 2013-2014 academic year. I wanted to let all of you know that I have truly enjoyed my time at the College and that I wish all of you in particular, and the College in general, all the best for the future.

My personal nursing career began forty (40) years ago as I earned my Associate in Science Degree in Nursing at Pace University in New York. I have worked in a variety of nursing capacities over those 40 years, earned both my Bachelor’s and Master’s Degrees in Nursing, taught undergraduate nursing for seven (7) years at Fairfield University before coming to St. Vincent’s College, where I have taught full-time in the nursing program for the past twenty-three (23) years. I have always loved being a nurse, and I have enjoyed sharing that love for the “art” and the “science” of nursing with my many nursing students and colleagues over the years.

I have enjoyed working at St. Vincent’s College, as I was blessed to be able to work within my Catholic faith belief system, whether teaching in the classroom, supervising students in the clinical setting, or working with students or colleagues in small or large groups. The Mission and Core Values of St. Vincent’s College, incorporating the teachings of the Catholic Church, complemented what I have embraced as being important in life – stressing the spirituality, dignity, and worth of each individual.

My professional career has afforded me the flexibility to manage and enjoy my personal life and responsibilities. I have been very happily married for the past thirty-nine (39) years to my wonderful husband, Gene. We have three very successful, grown children, two terrific sons-in-laws, and one beautiful, talented, soon-to-be daughter-in-law, as well as four grandchildren to keep us fully surrounded by love. In addition, we are blessed to have my 88-year-old mother living with us at our home. My family has always been a most important part of my personal identity, and I look forward to being able to enjoy them all even more fully in retirement.

Thank you for being such an integral part of my life over these years. God Bless You All!

Professionally yours,

C. Teresa Cryan, MSN

Dear St. Vincent’s Community:

As the day of my retirement draws near, I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for 12 challenging and rewarding years, preparing students for a lifetime of learning in healthcare professions, and working with some of the most dedicated faculty and staff found anywhere. I know that these words may sound trite, but to those of you who really know me, you know that it comes from my heart. As I look forward with anticipation to new challenges ahead, I wish each and everyone of you health, happiness, and success as life brings new challenges to you as well.

Fondly,

Rosemary Pastor

The Strick J. Woods, M.D. Conference Room at St. Vincent's College's newest campus facility, the Virginia O'Brien Fortin Student Learning Center at 2660 Main Street, Bridgeport was dedicated on Wednesday, April 16th. This honor was bestowed upon Dr. Woods who has distinguished himself in the field of gastroenterology. An anonymous donor, inspired by the tireless work of Dr. Woods to improve the health of the citizens of Fairfield County and the great things that St. Vincent's College is doing to address the healthcare needs of the local community, made this naming opportunity possible.

A reception took place immediately following the dedication ceremony where Dr. Woods was recognized by members of the College and Medical Center leaders for this accomplishment. Colleagues, family, and friends of Dr. Woods joined in the celebration.
This Spring the St. Vincent’s Community (along with many members of the local community) paid tribute to the Daughters of Charity for their extensive history and work with St. Vincent’s College and the Medical Center. The College was founded in 1905 by the Daughters of Charity and this year concludes their more than 110 years of service. The Daughters will continue their mission of caring for the poor and vulnerable in locations where they are more desperately needed. Despite the fact that the Daughters will no longer be here in physical presence, their legacy still inspires us everyday.
2660 Main Street Update

In the fall students will enjoy their second year of the Virginia O’Brien Fortin Learning Center at 2660 Main Street. This 15,000 square foot teaching and learning space was dedicated this past fall. We have put a couple of photos of the facility in this issue of the Alumni Report but you really must see it to appreciate what a great space it is for our students and faculty. Thank you to each of you who donated to the capital campaign that made this new addition to our facilities possible.

Students In Need

Our fundraising efforts for the upcoming year are being focused on scholarships. Were you a recipient of a scholarship or grant when you were a student at St. Vincent's? If so, please consider “paying it forward” and giving to the College's scholarship program. Today's average St. Vincent's College student is a working adult average age of 30 who is struggling to pay for college, put food on the table for the family and pay the bills. Students need your help now more than ever.
